( PIKEVILLE COLLEGE, A SCENE
YOU WILL NEVER FORGET )

A Perfect Scene

The scene begins on a crisp, August morning in the hills of Appalachia. We see a small, private college perched high upon a hill overlooking the town of Pikeville, Kentucky. Students from all walks of life roam the campus of Pikeville College as they embark on what will be the greatest years of their lives. As we watch these individuals settle into their home upon the hill, we hear the sweet sound of bells ringing from within Record Memorial across the quaint campus. The smell of opportunity and adventure fills the air while the chance for many special memories to be made is at the fingertips of eager minds and hearts yearning to begin yet another chapter in life.

Left: Amber Hunter, Kayla Bunch, Jennifer Bunch, Ashley Day, Dana Smith, and Tracy Miller are out to discover Pikeville College, safari style.

Below is the Allara Library where many students spend long hours in class, doing research papers, or studying for final exams. The library becomes a second home for some.

ARMINGTON LEARNING CENTER
• UNDERGRADUATE SCIENCES AND MATHEMATICS •
• SCHOOL OF OSTEOPATHIC MEDICINE •

A scene to remember

Left: As classes change, students take the time to talk with one another on the bridge and catch up on each other's lives. During the spring and fall months, the bridge is a great place to enjoy the weather and spend time with the friends you have made on campus.

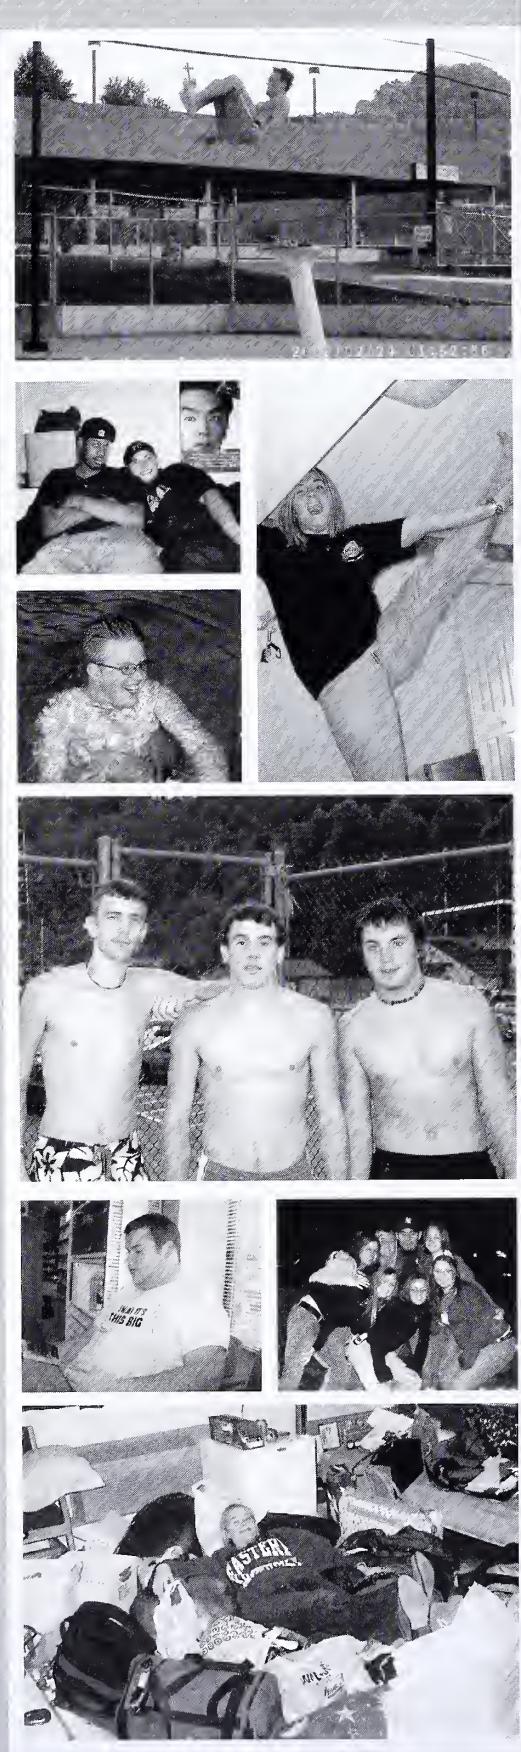

The above scene is the Derriana, a "home away from home" to many female students at Pikeville College.

Starring Peggy Davis through the years

"Peggy has a warmth and a joie d'vive, that energizes and inspires everyone she meets. She is my hero."

Sydney England

"How can I sum a woman up that has such a big heart?"

Emma Clark

"It is an individual like Peggy who really lives up to the legend... '... those footprints in the sands of time were not made by someone who stood still! Thanks, Peggy, and best wishes."

Howard Roberts

"After my wife and I lost a car in an accident, Peggy came by to my office and said she had one she wanted to give to us. It was, and still is, a 'LIFE SAVER.' This is Peggy, and Emma and I love her."

Basil Clark

"She is an amazing woman with many talents."

Chandra Massner

"Peggy Davis has been a member of the College family for many years. Her enthusiasm in the classroom has touched the lives of hundreds of students."

President Hal Sinit

"The fabric Peggy Davis has woven at Pikeville College contains many threads. She has served the college faithfully, not just in Anthropology and Sociology, but with her work in Appalachian Culture and Folk Arts, and, of course, Dance. Over the years she has been recognized as the 'favorite teacher' of many of our best students. Her colleagues will join her students, for she has earned the respect of the faculty as well. Together, these are threads of service, achievement, and distinction. This fabric she now wears over her shoulders is an inspiration to all of us."

Kay Hardesty

"For about three decades Peggy Davis has served Pikeville College as a true mountain scholar. Her love of dance, food, and life sets her apart. She has done more than we will know to preserve and enhance our Appalachian heritage."

Mark Sohn

"Peggy Davis moved back from Arizona and the Up with People group to eastern Kentucky soon after we moved here in 1975. I was community education director at the time when she came to ask if she could teach dance, and so the birth of the dance program at PC began. I still remember the first time we went to her house at Brushy for molasses making, can still see the donkey going around in circles around a vat. Peggy introduced us to so many positive things about the region, and I know we and the College will miss her enthusiasm and charisma. We wish her all the best."

Kathy Sohn

"Peggy's enthusiasm, dedication and love for teaching and learning have impacted a multitude of students at Pikeville College for almost three decades. These students, individually and collectively, will continue her legacy for many generations to come. We wish her all the best as she begins a new chapter in her life."

2006

Johnnie LeMaster was named KIAC Coach of the Year in 1997. Baseball has been LeMaster's life. He was the sixth pick in the nation in the Major League Baseball draft by the San Francisco Giants in 1973, and with two short years, he had worked his way up the ladder and into the Major Leagues. His professional career spanned from 1973-87 with the Giants and later with Cleveland, Pittsburgh and Oakland. LeMaster is also a businessman. He is the President of three corporations, one being Johnnie LeMaster's Sports, Inc., which operates sporting goods stores in Pikeville and Paintsville.

Don Ashby was a graduate of Grundy High School. In 1990, he attended Pikeville College where he played baseball. He then played football at Liberty University in 1991, and the University of Virginia at Wise in 1992. Then, he went on to graduate from the University of Virginia in 1994. Ashby has been at PC since 2002. He is the assistant dean of students. He is also the director of student life, intramurals, and student activities. Ashby is also the owner of his own fundraising company, Wise Advertising.

Born December 18, 1983 in Caguas Puerto Rico, Rafael Marcano graduated from Colegio Bautista de Caguas High School. He started playing baseball when he was 6 years old. He has traveled to New York, Florida, California, Indiana, Venezuela, and Mexico representing his country as part of championship teams. He went to a junior college in Mattoon, Illinois, during his first year of college and spent the remaining four at Pikeville College. At PC, he played for 3 years and developed into an all conference 1st team selection last year, hitting .338 and playing good defense behind the plate as well as other positions in the infield. He is now an assistant coach for the Pikeville College Bears and will graduate from the College in May with a business major in management.

The Eastern Kentucky Exposition Center opened its doors in October 2005. "The opening of the Expo Center is a landmark event, not just for Pike County, but for all of Eastern Kentucky," said Donna Damron, executive director of the Eastern Kentucky Exposition Center. "This outstanding structure and the opportunity it provides to host nationally recognized events has been a dream for way too long. The dream is now a reality, and the reality is far better than most people ever envisioned."

Pikeville College students, faculty, and staff can be found in the crowd at the shows and many students have found part-time employment at the Expo. Many Pikeville College events were held at the facility this year including the alumni banquet, Mid-South Conference basketball tournament, and the Pikeville College and the School of Osteopathic Medicine's commencements.

End Credits

It is always impossible to remember everyone who has helped make this yearbook possible, but I am going to try to remember most of you. Producing a yearbook is a lot of hard work, frustration, and fun. Thanks to anyone and everyone who contributed photos – they are truly what makes the book a special treasure in the years to come. I'd like to recognize Brigitte LaPresto for supporting the book through the Humanities division and communication curriculum. Thanks to Public Affairs, especially Terry Spears, Lucy Holman, and Stephanie Stiltner, who support the book in any way they can, including setting up our campus photo shoots with our photographer, Doug.

This year's book would not have been completed without the help of freshman Jessica Casey. She worked all summer, long hours in the computer lab helping to make each page a special memory. A number of students contributed to this year's book, including the following students who were enrolled in the yearbook courses in the fall and spring: Jessica, Ashley Day, Sheila Matney, Hope Goff, Dana Smith, Larry Shaw, Matt Brown, Briona Taylor, Jessica Blankenship, Chris Chick, Heather Greene, Amber Hunter, Monica Johnson, Adam Lesshaft, Jet Lincey, Matt Mahon, Tracy Miller, Kellie Jo Moore, Kelly Scott, Jay Shepherd, Tiffany Slone, and Donald Tardy. Whitney Fleming, Mindy Fleming, Tonya Amburgey, Sarah Hughes, and many others also contributed. Several medical school students, faculty, and staff members helped us get more PCSOM pictures than we have been able to have in recent years, so I am grateful to them. Thanks to each of you for each photo. We have an awesome Josten's representative in Billy Hargis who comes and spends many hours helping us iron out technical glitches. Without him, we would be lost.

Finally, I have to thank my unbelievable daughter, Amanda Mae, who spends many long hours in the computer lab with her momma and who never fusses when we attend PC events to snap needed photos.

I hope this book will be a lasting treasury of memories of your time on the hill.

*God Bless,
